23rd November, 2018
SEMINAR HALL

tête-à-tête 2018

We invite subjective participation from budding scholars to share their analytical minds and interact academically with their contemporaries. One could write an abstract (200-300 words) on the areas of their academic interests and submit it to scbcc.englishdepartment@gmail.com by 7th November'18. It could be a joint paper or an individual paper with/without audio-visual interactions. We intentionally have kept the topic open so that we could engage with diverse areas of interests.

The abstracts would be shortlisted and all the presenters would be informed accordingly by 8th November. The shortlisting of the abstract would be based on its novelty, its integrity and its diversity. Each presenter would be given 15mins to make their presentations followed by a review of the paper by a discussant and Q&A. The final draft (between 1000-1200 words) of the selected papers must be submitted by 18th November.
